LIVENING THINGS UP

Simple and clean forms don't have to be dull or even boring. On the contrary! You and your guests will feel uplifted before you have even drunk from them.

GREETINGS FROM THE GALAXY CULBUTO

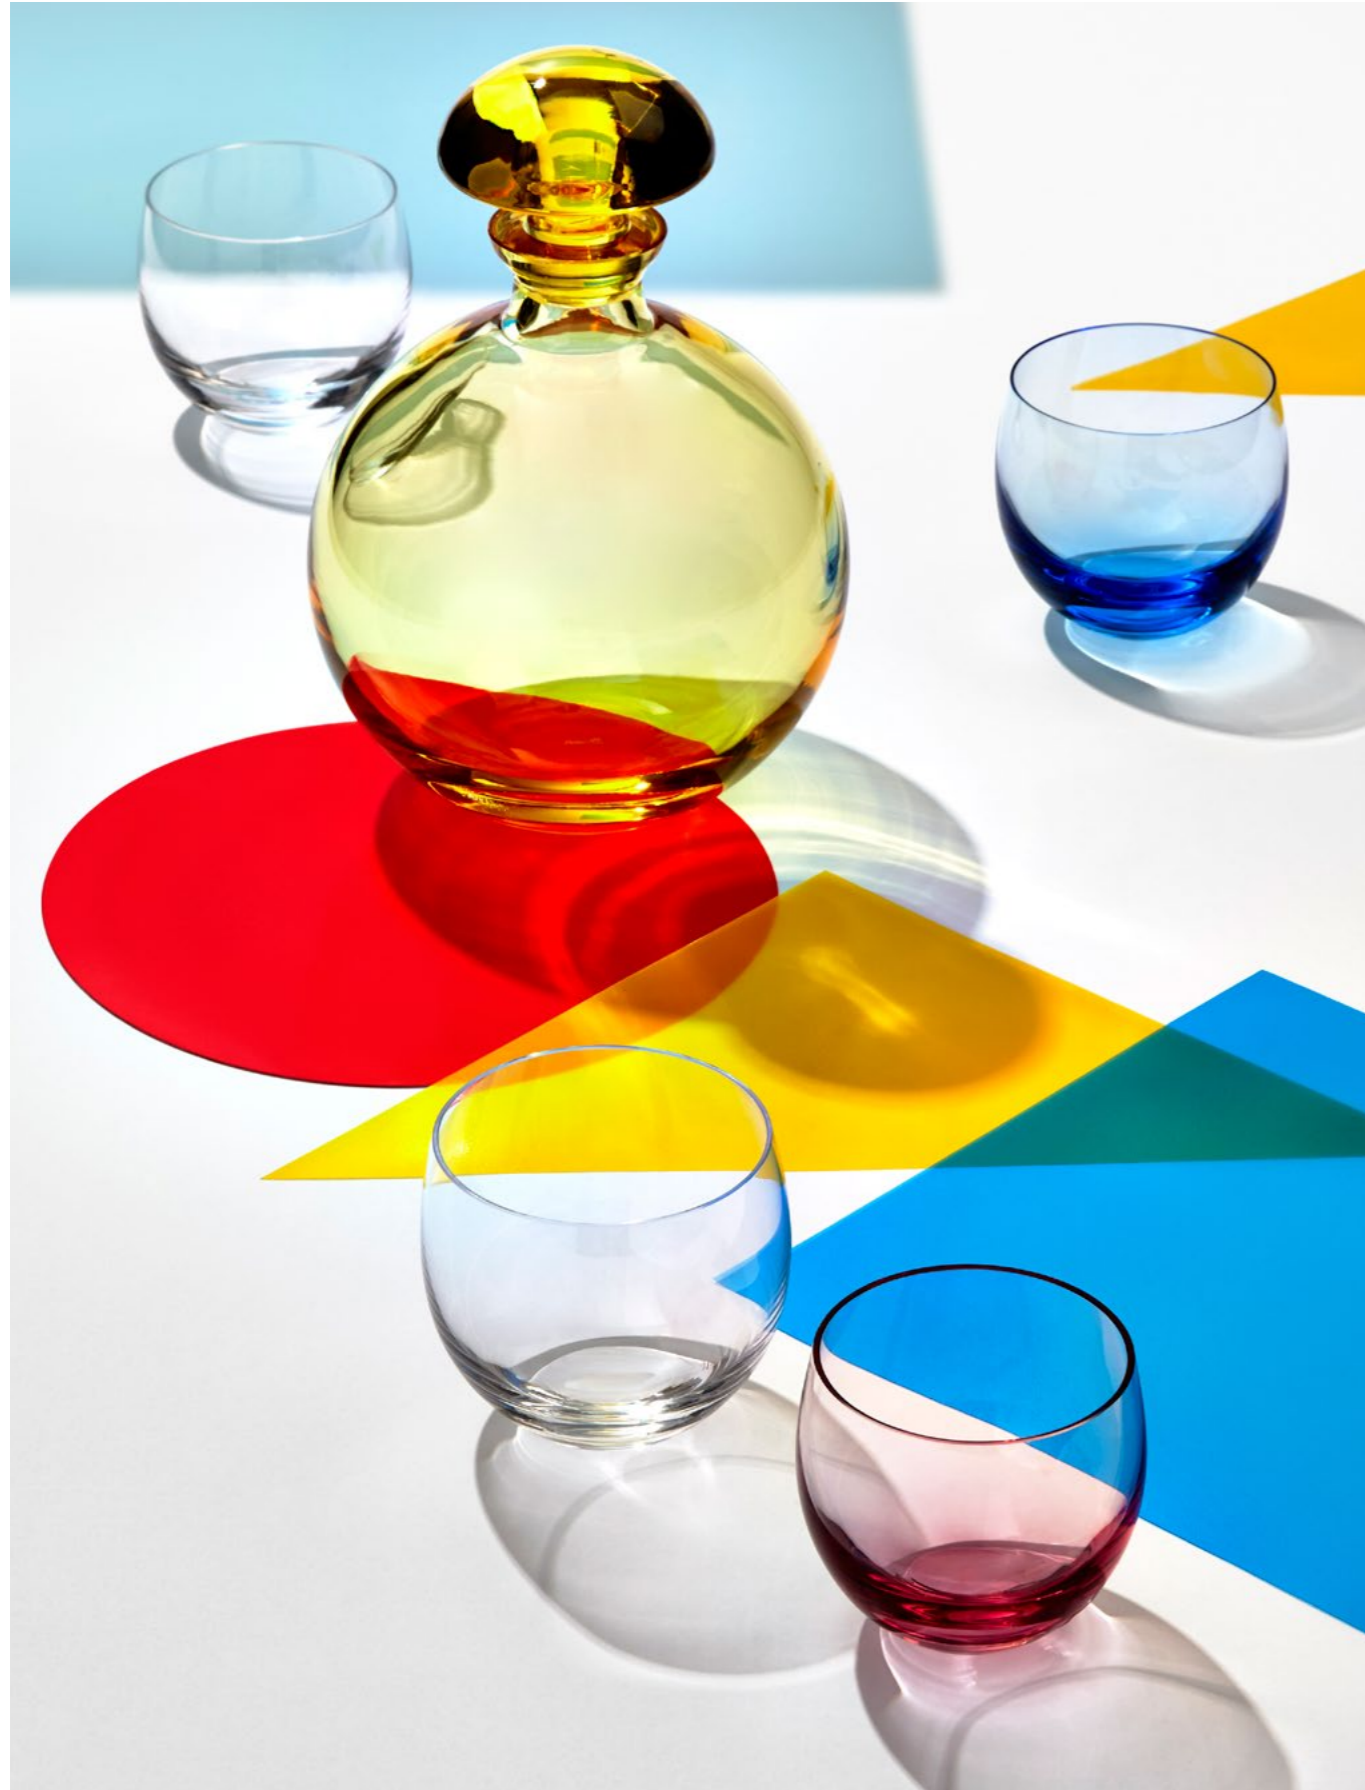

Culbuto is magical both in clear crystal and a whole range of unique colours. Thanks to its shape and the optics of the Moser crystal, the glasses create an elegant composition that gives the impression of being the creation of a galactic bubble-blower. The carafe in the set is the gravitational core of the Culbuto galaxy.

A GAME FOR YOU, A CHALLENGE FOR THE GLASSMAKER

The uniqueness of the Culbuto collection, designed in 1935, lies in the perfect proportions of the round, thin-walled bowl, standing on an almost imperceptible solid base. The apparently simple form requires great experience and precision both in glassblowing and cutting.

CULBUTO NEVER GROWS OLD

Its lightness and playfulness means Culbuto stands out immediately from other functionalist designs by Rudolf Eschler. The collection takes its name from the principle of a toy which, when pushed over, will always return to vertical because of its low centre of gravity.

The Culbuto principle was known in China as early as the Tang dynasty (7th-10th century) by the name of budaoweng, and is also used in traditional Japanese okiagari-koboshi dolls. The popular Pokemon figures include the figure of Qulbutoke.

PUT TOGETHER A COLLECTION THAT FEELS AND LOOKS GOOD

The basic clear collection best sets off the colour of your favourite drink, but it can be brilliantly combined with coloured variations. At parties you can let your guests choose the colour they like best.
